UK Milk Futures Equivalent

DAIRY FUTURES/UK MILK FUTURES EQUIVALENT - 21 MARCH 2016

Through our Dairy Fund Projects, we engaged with industry EEX Futures specialists, INTL FC Stone and milk.prices.com to pursue Dairy Futures opportunities. This to provide greater market knowledge of future dairy ingredient returns, and the potential longer term for Dairy Futures trades to be accessible to our dairy farmers. UKMFE Futures results recorded below are gross derived from future trades in butter/SMP converted to UK pence/litre equivalents at the latest exchange rates.

FUTURES RESULTS - Summary Updated - 210316

Although a reduction applied to the recent GDT auction, some EU dairy auctions (Netherlands) have improved. Resultant UK Milk Futures Equivalent based on latest EEX Futures therefore record improvements across all months verses a month ago. Futures markets are indicating a gross price of 20p/l restored for April and May 2017 which is an improvement on the 22nd February results where no month recorded 20p/l. The data for the forthcoming quarter (in red box) demonstrates how the market has declined for this same period during the past year losing OVER 6p/l latest trade vs. the Futures markets April 2015.

BELOW - LATEST AND BACKDATA ALL EXPRESSED AS GROSS UKMFE p/l.

To translate into a Net Price (after transport and processor margin) delivers a low of 13.60/l April 2016 (up +0.24p/l from 13.36p/l 'LOW' last month), and compares with AHDB February AMPE less 2p/l transport of 14.0p/l, and a UKMFE high of 17.53p/l May 2017 (up +0.63p/l from the 'HIGH' from a month ago).
